"Celebrating our 10th anniversary is a moment of pride for us," said Prof. Dr. Andreas Mierau, LUNEX Academic Director. "Over the years, we have focused on academic excellence, initiated research projects, and established partnerships with local and international stakeholders. LUNEX is, today, still a very young institution but it is much more mature with a clear strategic plan to become a hub in Europe for sports science, health, and management."

Join the Celebration

LUNEX will celebrate this milestone throughout 2025 with a series of testimonial videos from key players who have shaped its history. These videos will provide insights into the institution's journey and the impact it has had over the past decade.
